ART COMMISSIONS BY MAKE STUDIO

#1

Margie Smeller

Margie loves rendering landscapes in sharpie, and may reserve the right to sneak in a mini poem, an adorable arsenal of little espresso cups, or a bed of flowers. If you asked her to just put the most exquisite tableware and sweetest candy on paper for you, she'd gladly to that, too.

#5

Tyrone Weedon

Tyrone portrays people, from family members to celebrities, with great attention to detail. He does so with a wide array of materials, from markers and colored pencils to watercolor and acrylic.

#2

Iragi Nkere

Iragi offers you his own meticulous version of your favorite artwork in watercolor or colored pencil. He's made several inspired by well-known pieces found at the BMA, and also depicts Power Rangers equally well as a Jimson Weed, if that helps seal the deal for you.

#6

Erika Clark

Erika enjoys making gentle and skilled renderings of your favorite landscape or botany in watercolor or colored pencil and will give it an unmistakably mystical touch.

#3

Bess Lumsden

If you want to do yourself a favor and have your home exterior or interior reimagined as a creepy lair of horror, Bess will deliver. An acquired taste for sure, but some tastes are worth acquiring!

#7

Zach Manuel

Zach is up for tackling anything you'd like to present to him in the form of a photo—landscapes, people, animals—and give it that geometrical, mechanical "Zach" twist. If asked, he'll throw in a free narrative.

#4

Louis Middleton

In his own words, Louis is the guy for "your favorite landscape picture from the internet or from a place you have visited", and likes to execute it in colored pencil or watercolor.

#8

Kareem Samuels

Kareem loves to create portraits of your friends, family and everyone's favorite celebrities with bright, bold acrylics and confident black lines, kind of like if Piet Mondrian didn't use straight lines and embraced the innocence of every face. Always a joy.
